

Polished Concrete

Today, exposed aggregate and polished concrete is an increasingly popular choice with Architects, Developers and Home owners.

Exposed aggregate enhances the aesthetic look of any project, while polished concrete is superior to tiles and floorboards and far more durable as well as adding value to your property.

By sourcing attractive and interesting stones, Metro Mix Concrete is able to provide its customers with an almost endless combination of blends incorporating a variety of different textures, finishes and colours to suit any environment.

GET EXACTLY WHAT YOU WANT

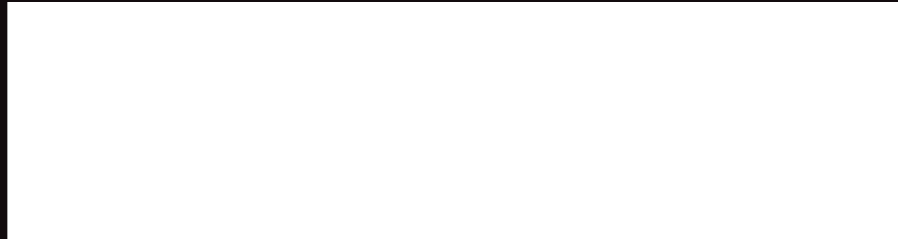

A key feature we offer our exposed aggregate and polished concrete customers is the option to create their own one of a kind mix design, to suit any specification or personal preference, that's if you can't find what you are looking for from our extensive range on offer.

A visit to our showroom and a chat with one of our expert sales team will help you select the most appropriate mix to suit your project.

Metro Mix Concrete does not guarantee the colours or textures of the products implied either via brochure or display samples. All mixes are subject to variation as they are produced with natural resources. Incorrect placement & finishing may also have an affect on the overall appearance.

Grey Base Exposed Aggregate

Exposed Aggregate is a fantastic decorative alternative to standard grey or coloured concrete. A touch of class, combined with durability, makes exposed aggregate an ideal choice for pool decks, patios, driveways, walkways, commercial entryways and more.
